The Writing Process

Answer the following questions in a complete sentence.

What is revision? _______________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________

What is editing? _______________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________

Why do authors need to revise their writing? __________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________

Write whether the change an author makes is revision or editing.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Change</th>
<th>Revision or Editing</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Adding punctuation</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adding more details about characters or events</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taking out ideas that are not needed</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>