

Where's Snowball?

"Becca! Bradley! Hurry up and get ready for school!" shouted Allison. It was a sunny warm day. It was also the first day of school at Lakehill Academy.

Becca and Bradley yawned and got out of bed. They got dressed and went downstairs to get breakfast. Their mom had made blueberry pancakes. Then Becca noticed something wasn't right. "Where's Snowball?" Becca asked. Bradley and his mother looked around. Becca was right. Snowball was no where to be found.

"I can't go to ~~school~~ ^{second grade} without petting Snowball. I just can't." said Becca.

Bradley got up from his seat and went upstairs. He looked everywhere. Snowball was missing. He told his little sister about the missing puppy.

"We have to find him!" said Becca. "Let's call the neighbors," Mrs. Rinn said.

Mrs. Rinn called all the neighbors and none had seen Snowball. She told her sad daughter. Becca started crying. There was no way she was going anywhere until the dog was found. Out of nowhere, the family heard a loud crash and a knock on the door. Mrs. Rinn opened the door and saw Princess Jasmine. Princess Jasmine could solve any kid's problem.

"Becca, I know your puppy is missing. I'll help you find him," Princess Jasmine said.

Becca and Princess ^{Jasmine} left the house. They looked down the street and kept walking until they reached the edge of the haunted forest. Princess Jasmine heard faint barking and quiet suggested they explore the forest. A few minutes later, Becca saw a group of puppies. One small, yellow puppy was chasing the others.

"Snowball!" shouted Becca. Princess Jasmine picked up the dog and gave him to Becca. "Now you can start second grade," she said.

"Thanks, Princess Jasmine." Becca said. Princess Jasmine had solved another problem.